

Research and Developments Quality control unit of Polymer Talayi Yazd Company , does its best to guarantee the high quality of the sheets. In this way , this unit takes actions on quality control of entering items and raw materials in process of production and final inspection. In this unit all of the physical or mechanical quality tests have been done with modern technology according to updated universal standard (ASTM , ISQ, DIN) With the aid of the company laboratory equipment , the units capable to perform tension , and strike (Cherphy & Izod) tests , to determine of melt flow index (MFR , MVR , HDT ,/Vicat) and to measure the color change rate in in exposure of UV radiation. This unit is continuing to perform by the required standards have been received. Some of the received standards are as follows : ISO 9001-2008 in quality management , ISO 1400 in environmental managements and OHSAS in work place safety and hygiene. In order to research and developments , this unit has had activity on determining the possibility of new productions (variety and innovetions) , planning towards fulfilling research projects, co-operating with research contents considering the company policy , buying new equipment and finding and suggesting suitable methods on quality consistency of products. .